Rutgers Club of Washington

Winter 2004

A word from our President

Brenda Snyder, DC '73

Happy New Year 2004 and welcome to the third consecutive year of membership in Rutgers' Best All Around Regional Club. I hope you enjoyed the many activities the club offered during the summer and fall. Now in the New Year, we are ready to go again and plan to get a current calendar on the club's website www.rutgersclubdc.org.

During the past 6 months club members enjoyed a variety of activities. A new annual event began on November 10, 2003. The Rutgers Club of Washington, DC met at the Capitol City Brewery, wearing or winning Scarlet to celebrate Rutgers Charter Day – 225 years after the original charter was created.

The Northern Virginia College Night season kicked off in late September covering Loudoun, Prince William, Fairfax, and Fauquier Counties and Alexandria. Club members attended 8 college nights and talked to literally hundreds of high school students and their parents about Rutgers University. The next opportunity to share with students from Northern Virginia the great education and wonderful times you had at Rutgers will be in April at George Mason University's Patriot Center. No experience is necessary, as you will always be assisted by the experienced club members and frequently by a member of the undergraduate admissions department from New Brunswick. Come and join one of the only college night recruiting teams that offers personalized service. We have been recognized by the PAID recruiters from other schools as the team to beat.

Have you joined the Rutgers sports fans at the Grand Hyatt at Washington Center? The newest members of the leadership team - Kelly Ferrara and Arpan Dasgupta - arranged for us to gather to watch the best Rutgers football team in 10 years and an improved basketball team. Please read on for further information and watch your email for specific game updates as we get the TV coverage information at the last minute.

Isabel came through and washed out the club's first annual scholarship golf outing. Not to fear – the determined participants returned on October 11 and had a great time. Prizes were awarded and lots of scholarship money was raised.

Save the date February 19 when the club jointly sponsors with the New Jersey State Society (NJSS) a gathering at the MCI Center to watch the 2002 Stanley Cup winners, the NJ Devils play the Washington Capitals at 7pm. The NJSS will be sponsoring a pregame gathering at the Chop House at 5:15 pm. As a special treat the Rutgers alums have been challenged by Princeton alums to play broomball on the ice at the conclusion of the hockey game. Watch your email and the club website for future information.

Other sports events to put on your calendar are

1. The women's basketball team playing on the Georgetown campus on Saturday February 21 at 3pm. This event is great fun and only costs about $6. Let's keep the tradition of having more RU fans than the home team. RU won the game in Piscataway by only 3 points. The second game should prove to be quite a match.
2. The Rutgers wrestling team will be at College Park, MD at noon on February 7
3. The Rutgers women's lacrosse team will be at Loyola in Baltimore, MD on 2/22 with a time to be announced and at Georgetown on 3/28 at 1pm
4. The Rutgers men's lacrosse team will play Dartmouth (that's what the schedule says) in Baltimore with a time to be announced

Please save the date for an evening reception with university President Richard McCormick! President McCormick will be traveling to D.C. for an alumni gathering on Capitol Hill on Tuesday, March 16th. Let's acquaint Dr. McCormick with the many dedicated and accomplished Rutgers alumni who call the Washington area home. Look for the event details both on-line and in the mail soon.

Speaking of mail, I hope all members of the Rutgers Club of Washington will take a few moments to complete the enclosed alumni questionnaire and return it to me with their 2004 dues payment. Every two years, the Club publishes a membership directory. You must complete this form and return it to rutgersclubdc@alumni.rutgers.edu no later than June 30th to be listed in the 2004 directory. You may also mail your response to Rutgers Club of Washington, DC, 444 North Capitol Street, NW, Suite 728, Washington, DC, 20001. Please note that directories are only sent to those club members who've paid their dues for the year.

If you have news you'd like to share with area alumni in the next club newsletter, just send an email to the address above and we'll print it in the Spring.

Treasurer's Report

Megan Arleth, RC '00, SCILS '00

As we are moving into what will hopefully be an early spring, I want to take the opportunity to thank all of our members that made our events possible through their dues payments last year. With many great events in the works, and the Rutgers in Washington interns soon to be joining us in the nation's capitol, we hope to have an exciting and RU filled spring and summer. To make that possible, I urge all members to send in their dues payments for 2004.

In order to provide more services and events to our members, we have increased dues this year to $20, the first increase in many years. Dues for recent alumni of 2001 and 2002 is $10, and is complementary for the class of 2003. To help you find other alumni in the Metro area, all dues paying members will receive a copy of our latest alumni directory. We continue to offer PayPal as a method of dues payment, to provide convenience to our members. PayPal allows members to make payments via credit card or direct debiting from their checking account. If you have any questions on how to use PayPal, please refer to our website, www.rutgersclubdc.org or contact me at mcurcio@alumni.rutgers.edu.

Please see the enclosed flyer for more information on how you can pay your dues.

A healthy and happy New Year to all RU alumni. I look forward to seeing you at upcoming events.

Although our club president, Brenda Snyder, has already shared the good news with you, I'd like to take a moment to reflect on the Club's unprecedented "three-peat"... The Rutgers Club of DC has once again been awarded the coveted William C. Campbell prize at the University's Meritorious Service Awards ceremony, held in New Brunswick. It was surely the highlight of Homecoming, 2003! The Campbell award recognizes the nation's outstanding regional alumni club, and the Rutgers Club of DC has been honored now for the third time in as many years. This is truly a remarkable achievement, and it certainly could not have been possible without the support of our remarkable alumni network. So on behalf of the leadership board, many thanks to everyone. I say it's not too soon to start chanting, "Go for Four in 2004!"

Some recent activities that helped seal the win included, first of all, a trip to the Capital Area Food Bank last March. Alumni, friends and family spent a half day packing and sorting food for those in need. The assembly lines of volunteers were actually quite challenging, and exempted some of us from our scheduled visits to the Gym that weekend. As we left for the day though, it was amazing to see pallet after pallet stacked with provisions for school lunch programs, churches and shelters throughout the region. We hope to make the Capital Area Food Bank an annual event.

5. Both the men's and women's track & field teams will be at George Mason University in Fairfax, VA for the IC4A Championships beginning May 14. Watch your email for updates.

Let me take this opportunity to again thank the wonderful club leadership team for their tireless energy to make all these things happen. A special thanks goes to Rochelle Goldberg for her tireless effort handling the clubs treasurer duties for many years. We wish her well and hope to continue to see her at club events.

We welcome Megan Arleth who will be picking up the treasurer's duties. Megan has already demonstrated her skills by planning many events as the Young Alumni chairperson and participating as a college night recruiter. Good Luck Megan.

Additionally, there has been a change in development of the newsletter. My thanks go to Karen Reinbacher for her hard work putting together previous newsletters. Welcome and good luck to Nick Arleth for taking on the challenge.

Welcome to Kelly Ferraro and Arpan Dasgupta for taking on the position of Young Alumni planners. Read on to see their plans for the club.

Lastly, I am reminding you that now is the time for club dues to be paid. See the treasurer's section for the dues' schedule. These funds are used for mailings and subsidizing club events. Please note that membership in other Rutgers alumni associations does not cover the DC club's costs.

Please let any one of us know what other programs you would like us to offer or if you have the time/contacts to plan something.

As always – GO RU.

Capital Alumni Network

Kevin Horahan, UCNB '98

Happy New Year! I hope everyone had a safe and enjoyable holiday season. Now that the holidays are over it is time to begin thinking about the 2004 activities both for the Rutgers Club and for the larger Capital Alumni Network (CAN).

It seems to me that in 2003 we had much more interest in some of the group events and I would like us to keep that up and go even further. I will continue to relay the dates and times of events that fit the mission of our club but will also take a more active role in encouraging participation in some of the sports and social events sponsored or promoted by CAN. To that end, I have listed a few of the upcoming events (and one item of interest...) below and would appreciate it if organizers would send me an email (khorahan@alumni.rutgers.edu) as soon as they solidify their event's details. Thanks and have a great 2004!

* CAN & The Washington Wizards Present "CAN Alumni Night" Friday, Feb. 20, 2004, 7:00PM, Wizards vs. Indiana Pacers. All tickets will be sold at $30/ticket (regularly priced at $50) and are in the 400 (upper) section.

Features of this special event:

- $5/ticket donation returned to your alumni chapter.
- Two random pairs of tickets ordered will be upgraded to lower level seats.
- Promotion of all participating schools on the big screen above the court.
- Pre-game happy hour at a local DC bar.

* Hands on DC - Saturday, May 1, 2004: This is a volunteer community work-a-thon to refurbish DC public schools and raise funds for college scholarships. More information will be available following the February CAN meeting so stay tuned. www.handsondc.org. You can also join Hands on DC at one of their fundraising happy hours. Your cover charge earns you drink specials and the chance to win a door prize, and helps cover the operating costs of Hands on DC 2004. The next happy hour is Tuesday, January 13, 2004, at The Exchange (1719 G St. NW, www.theexchangesaloon.com).

* CAN Softball - April through August 2004: Each year, CAN coordinates one of the largest softball tournaments in the DC area. As far as I know, the Rutgers Club of DC has never participated - but we can change that! We would need about 15 or 20 players to make sure we could field a team each week. Teams are "co-ed" and games are played on the Mall and at other DC park facilities. Let me know if you are interested and available.

(COMMUNITY, from P2)

In June, the Club once again sponsored a team for the Susan Komen "Race for the Cure". Although the weather did not cooperate, a number of soaking wet alumni braved the wind and rain in support of breast cancer research. Many thanks to all runners who marked "RUJ" on their registration forms. Incidentally, RUJ is now the official team ID for next year's event, so mark your calendars for the first Saturday in June.

Also in June, the Club partnered with a local nonprofit to offer tutoring and mentoring to area students. College Bound is an organization that prepares DC-area public high school students for college, and they are seeking volunteers with four year degrees to tutor once a week for 2 hours, and to mentor once a month for four hours. All tutoring sessions are conducted after business hours and all tutoring locations are Metro-accessible. If you would like to learn more about College Bound, please visit their web site at www.collegebound.org. If you would be interested in volunteering, please email info@collegebound.org, or call 202/842-4014 to speak with College Bound's Program Manager.

In early August, we hosted a Happy Hour at Tortilla Coast on Capital Hill, and had an impressive turnout there as well. The happy hour was intended as a kick-off event for our Inaugural Golf Tournament to benefit the Caspar Nannes Scholarship Fund, although with discounted beers, free appetizers and quite a few new faces, it was easy to get sidetracked.

Our final event of 2003, held on Saturday, October 11th at East Potomac Golf Course, was the Club's first ever golf tournament. Although originally scheduled for September, Hurricane Isabelle rendered the courses at Hains Point unplayable. Fortunately, many of the registrants were able to attend the rescheduled event on Columbus weekend, and over $600.00 was raised to benefit the Club's Nannes Scholarship fund. The fund is named in honor of Caspar Nannes, a vital supporter of Rutgers for many years, and an instrumental founder of our DC alumni chapter. The scholarship assists bright out-of-state students from this area who choose Rutgers over UVA, UMD and many other schools throughout the region. To date, the Nannes Scholarship Fund has helped over two dozen students attend Rutgers on scholarship. The Club hopes to make the Golf Tournament an annual fund raising event for the scholarship fund, so keep those clubs close by! Special thanks go out to all who participated, to Matt – who almost hit a hole in one, to the golf professionals at Hains Point who helped us pull off our first-time benefit, to Brenda Snyder, Chuck Divine, Carey Loch and Charlene Price-Holder, and especially to Kevin Horahan and his law school friends who became honorary Rutgers alumni for a day.

Rutgers Sports Update

Phil Keating

The winter sports season is well underway with the major sports being men's and women's basketball. The next Rutgers team to compete in the D.C. area will be the women's basketball team. They will play Georgetown on Saturday, February 21 at 3:00p.m. at McDonough Gymnasium on the main Georgetown campus. This is a great opportunity to see the Scarlet Knights play up close (literally). It is also a great family event because tickets are inexpensive ($5 for adults, $2 for children). There is no advance ticket sale.

As for the spring season, the women's lacrosse team, which is progressing rapidly under second year coach Laura Brand, will play at Georgetown on the main campus on Sunday, March 28 at 1:00p.m. The softball team plays at Maryland on Wednesday, March 17 at 2:00p.m.

The big event that we are likely to have next fall is the football team playing at Navy in Annapolis on Saturday, November 20 at 1:30p.m. Our football team is likely to be quite good (when was the last time you read that) and the atmosphere and festivities in Annapolis are very enjoyable. We obviously have some time before this event, but you may want to pencil it in on the calendar.

To keep up with sports news, the official Rutgers website, www.scarletknights.com is very helpful. You can listen to most basketball games over the internet. For the Rutgers sports aficionados, you may want to check out www.rutgersfootball.com (Mike and the Big Dog's site) and www.rutgersfan.com.

Cheer On RU Sports

Kelly Ferraro, RC '03

Brimming with beer, food, and excitement, the Grand Slam Bar was host to Rutgers Club of Washington sports fans during the 2003 football season. Wild from Potomac Fever, about 15 people gathered together for four season games to send their support to banks of the Ol' Raritan. Joining RCW alumni were the enthusiastic forces from 5 other alumni associations (Florida State University, LSU, CU, UCLA, Texas Tech). Together, the fans cheered on their respective teams on one of the bar's 5 large-screen, and 27 small-screen televisions.

The gatherings were a part of a series of sporting events that Rutgers Club of Washington began hosting during the football season, and will continue through the basketball season.

The Grand Slam will air all network-supported RU sporting events and reserve a section for alumni, provided the association gives notice before the start of each game. RU Alumni in Washington will send out ample notice prior to each game; in return, we will ask attendees to please RSVP at least one hour before tip off.

The Grand Slam Bar is located on the basement floor of the Grand Hyatt at Washington Center, 1000 H Street, NW. For further information regarding RU sports, go to scarletknights.com.

RU FOOTBALL

In 2003, Rutgers produced one of the top four turnarounds in Division I-A football this season. Rutgers posted a 5-7 mark in 2003, the most wins since the 1998 season, and picked up two BIG EAST wins, also the most since '98. Sophomore QB Ryan Hart guided the offense this season, throwing for a school-record 2,714 yards, while also setting single-season marks for attempts (398) and completions (234). Hart also threw 15 TD passes, completing at least one in 11 of 12 games. He hit three different receivers with 50 or more passes this season - Brian Leonard (53, 488), Tres Moses (52, 536) and Shawn Tucker (50, 726). Leonard was the team's top offensive player, gaining 1,368 yards of total offense, as well as scoring a team-high 14 touchdowns.

Defensively, RU was led by junior safety Jarvis Johnson, who amassed a team-high 97 tackles to pace the team. Senior DE Raheem Orr finished the season with 82 tackles, including 19.5 TFL and 8.5 sacks. CB Nate Jones (73 tackles, 2 INT) and LB Will Gilkison (72 tackles) also enjoyed strong seasons.

Young Alumni Events

Arpan Dasgupta, RC '03

Whether it's supporting the Scarlet Knights when they take on Georgetown at the MCI Center, taking tours of historic neighborhoods, or networking at happy hours-- young alumni events have always been a great opportunity to take a break and also find new social, cultural, and professional experiences.

In planning events for Rutgers Club of Washington, our goal is to feed off the energy of young alumni and provide opportunities to rekindle the Rutgers connection. We want to make the events an opportunity to meet new people, find old friends, and enjoy all the city has to offer. We hope that members take an active role in providing input for events so they are representative of the interest of the Rutgers young alumni community.

Along with past popular events such as happy hours, and the 4th of July celebrations on the mall, this year's events will include, depending on interest:

Hash Run: Take in the scenic sites of DC and surrounding areas on a short run, usually 2-4 miles, that includes bar stops along the way and/or at the conclusion of the run to replenish the soul.

Kickball Team: Come share in the great sports tradition of the Scarlet Knights by joining area alumni to take on some of the fiercest competition in the World Adult Kickball Association. Registration will begin soon and space is limited. Please let us know if you're interested ASAP.

Night at Dave & Buster's: A place to enjoy food, drinks, movies, and games all in one place.

If you have any questions, comments, or suggestions, feel free to contact Kelly Ferraro at klferraro318@yahoo.com or Arpan Dasgupta at Arpan.Dasgupta@idia.net. Kelly and Arpan are recent graduates of Rutgers College and would appreciate any input.

Rutgers Facts

(Compiled by the Rutgers University Foundation)

History

Rutgers holds the unique distinction of ranking among both the oldest and newest institutions of higher education.

Chartered as Queen's College on November 10, 1766, Rutgers was the eighth university established in the country.

The Rutgers Alumni Association, founded in 1831, is one of the oldest continuously operating alumni associations in the U.S.

The Rutgers Scientific School, renamed Cook College, became the state's land grant college in 1864.

Founded in 1869, the Daily Targum is the oldest continuously published college newspaper in the country.

Rutgers hosted the first intercollegiate football game, defeating Princeton in 1869.

Founded in 1918, Douglass College is the largest women's college in the U.S.

Rutgers is one of the newest state universities in the nation. It was designated the State University of New Jersey in 1945 and again in 1956.

The Newark campus was incorporated into Rutgers in 1946; the Camden campus was incorporated into the university in 1950.

In 1989, Rutgers became the 58th member of the Association of American Universities, which comprises 61 of the top research universities in North America.

The University

Rutgers is the state's flagship institution of higher education with 29 degree-granting colleges and schools on campuses in Camden, Newark, and New Brunswick, and extension offices and activities in all 21 counties.

Rutgers has a three-fold mission of teaching and learning, research and discovery, and community service and engagement.

Through 175 academic departments, Rutgers offers over 100 bachelors, 100 masters, and 70 doctoral and professional degree programs.

The university comprises 6,407 acres, 863 buildings, and 18 branch libraries.

Rutgers confers approximately 10,000 degrees annually.

The university has over 130 specialized research centers, bureaus, and institutes.

The $100 million RUNet program links 500 academic and residential buildings, and 97% of the residential students on three campuses in a high-speed data, video and voice network.

Rutgers faculty, students, and staff comprise a networked community of more than 60,000 – the equivalent of a small city.

Rutgers ranks 9th among U.S. universities in supercomputing systems.

The National Research Council ranks 16 Rutgers doctoral programs among the top third nationally.

Rutgers continuing education programs enroll more than 35,000 annually.

There are more than 310,000 Rutgers alumni; approximately 60% reside in New Jersey.

Student Body

Total enrollment is approximately 50,000; more than 38,000 are undergraduates.

For the class that entered in the Fall 2000, Rutgers received 28,684 applications for undergraduate admission, exceeding the FY99 all-time high by more than 2,000. University-wide applications for fall 2001, including graduate students and transfers, totaled 42,152.

Half of Rutgers students rank in the top 20% of their high school graduating class.

Sixty percent of Rutgers classes have fewer than 30 students.

Eighty-six percent of Rutgers students are from the state of New Jersey.

Minority students comprise 32% of the total student body, 6th among public AAU institutions.

U.S. News & World Report has rated Rutgers-Newark as the most diverse campus among national universities for the past four years.

First-year minority enrollment grew by 40% and Rutgers ranks 6th among public AAU institutions in baccalaureate degrees granted to minorities

Rutgers ranks second nationally in the number of bachelor's degrees conferred upon African-Americans by a predominantly non-minority school.

Since 1989, more than 12,000 students have contributed more than 678,000 hours of service valued at $3.75 million through the Rutgers Citizenship and Service Education program.

During fiscal year 2000, 65% of undergraduates received some form of financial assistance.

Undergraduates receive more than $184 million in federal and state grants, loans, work-study jobs, and university scholarships.

The Faculty

Of Rutgers more than 2,500 full-time faculty; 98% hold a Ph.D. or equivalent degree.

Student to faculty ratio across the university is 14-1.

During the last decade, Rutgers memberships in National Academies rose from 19 to 26.

Rutgers is 9th among public AAU institutions in full-time minority faculty; ranks 8th in the percentage of female faculty and 3rd in the percentage of African American faculty.

(see FACTS, P7)

Rutgers faculty have created 48 spinoff companies, including 35 in New Jersey.

Eighty-one percent of the Rutgers faculty's proposals for external research and training grants and contracts were funded.

Financial Data

The Rutgers budget is approximately $1.37 billion annually.

Annual state appropriations (FY01, $437 million) provide 31.8% of operating funds.

Student tuition and fees was $318 million, approximately 23% of operating funds.

Each year, approximately 40,000 individuals, corporations, and foundations provide Rutgers with financial support to help operate and improve the state-supported university.

Private giving increased from $27.6 million in 1991 to $86.8 million in fiscal 2002.

During the past eleven years, the total revenue from external research and sponsored programs has more than doubled -- from $96 million in 1990 to $237.8 million in 2002.

Rutgers ranks 10th among public AAU institutions in the percentage increase in National Science Foundation funding.

During the past six years, Rutgers has redirected more than $24 million in administrative savings to 125 priority projects that helped gain more than $275 million in external funding.

RU Alumni Cheer on Scarlet Knights

Megan Arleth, RC '00, SCILS '00

Rutgers alumni, friends and family came together to celebrate the New Year and cheer on the Scarlet Knights as they took on Georgetown. Before the game, many joined the club for good food, drink, and fun at Fado's, only one block from the MCI Center. The group of over 35 the alumni celebrated what they hoped would soon be a victory in the Scarlet Knight's first Big East game of the season.

After a quick walk over the MCI Center, the group joined fans who traveled down from New Brunswick to support the team. While cheers of "R-U" and "Lets Go Rutgers" went through the Georgetown arena, bring on memories of RAC, it only helped the team come close to beating the Hoyas. It was a nail-biting ending, as RU was close to taking Georgetown. However, Georgetown pulled it out in the end, beating Rutgers 63-57. But even with the loss, a good time was had by all that attended!

Please Save The Date

We plan to host an event to allow Rutgers alums and friends of Rutgers to meet and network professionally. RU CONNECTED ??? will become an annual event to serve as a business card exchange and opportunity to meet successful RU alums in varied careers - Law, Banking, Engineering, Finance, Health Care, Lobbying, Telecom, Research, Non-Profit, Government, Etc. We are also planning to have material available from Rutgers Career Services which is a great resource for alums looking at career changes as well as new grads coming into the workforce for the first time.

Washington can be an intimidating and overwhelming place for many newcomers. Come and meet some movers and shakers who have proudly made Washington their home and are open to giving back to the graduates of our great alma mater. What made Rutgers a great place to go to school was the culture of excellence and strength of diversity in the community. Let's make that community a reality in our nation's capitol.

The event will be held at a Metro accessible and convenient downtown restaurant and will feature some local recruiters and helpful demographic information about the DC job marketplace and where strong opportunities exist. Please contact me with any interest in helping to organize the event or providing ideas to make it a success !

See you at the next Rutgers event - Go RU !!

The Rutgers Club of Washington is now accepting payment for 2004 membership dues. Your dues payment is critical to the success of the Rutgers Club of Washington. Our club is the unprecedented, third-consecutive winner of the George H. Campbell Cup presented by Rutgers University annually to the most outstanding regional alumni club in the country.

Help us keep the Rutgers Club of Washington on top!

Your dues help to offset the cost of our numerous social, cultural, and community service events throughout the year, and pay for our administrative expenses. Club members who've paid their dues will be mailed a 2004 Membership Directory later in the year. Please complete the accompanying alumni questionnaire to ensure that you are included in our biennial directory.

Thanks in advance for your support.

We look forward to seeing you at many events this year!

Rutgers Club of Washington annual dues are $20.00

Graduates from 2001 and 2002 pay only $10.00

Graduates from 2003 enjoy one year of membership free-of-charge.

Please make your check payable to the Rutgers Club of Washington and mail it, along with your completed alumni questionnaire*, to:
